SCHOOL DAYS

Down through the ages
A great many sages
Have tried to teach children their letters.
For sages are slow
To admit that we know
So much more than most of our betters.

We started in grade one
Our brains mostly moron,
To struggle with A's, B's, and C'ses.
We whispered and giggled,
We squirmed and we wiggled,
And caught all the first grade diseases.

But as we grew older,
And taller, and bolder,
We found there were other things doing--
New friendships to make,
New talents to wake,
A thousand new interests a-brewing.

High School brought new muddles--
Enough to befuddle
The brightest and enthusiastic,
To teach us these treasures,
Our teachers used measures
Both subtle and more or less drastic.

Allergic to learning
And certainly not burning
For wisdom appropriate to college,
We truly are grateful,
(Though we may be lateful)
To those who've exposed us to knowledge.

We'll probably wish
(As we stewed up some dish
In Home Ec.,) we'd studied some harder.
For no doubt some day
We may have to play
Chief cook in our own well-stocked larder.

Or if, by some chance,
We're the type that wore pants,
And accepted Prof.'s generous giving,
We'll wish we'd been smart
And taken to heart
His lectures on agri- and living.

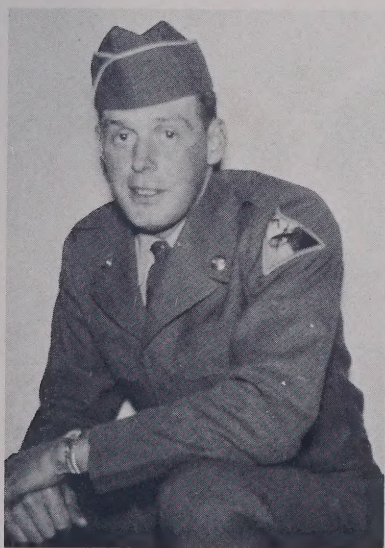

What the future will hold
For us all, we're not told,
But we know, as we bid her goodbye,
We will each do his best
To be true to each test,
And a credit to dear Dana Hi.

CLASS HISTORY

Twelve years ago, we, the Seniors of 1954, met in the first grade room with Miss Eleanor Plank and Mrs. D.B. Green. Miss Plank took twenty-nine, and Mrs. Green, sixteen, making a total of forty-five. A number of these are still together and will graduate here this year, but some, whom we have hated to see go, have left us; however, we have also gained others to replace them. We are very proud of these.

As we think back to the year we were all together for the first time in the third grade, we remember, with pleasure, the friendships we made.

When we were with Mrs. Coy Duncan in the sixth, we organized a soft ball team which won the grammar grade tournament. We also won a half-holiday for getting the most money for drives throughout the entire school.

We were an excited group of students--lost in this new world as we entered the ninth grade. Then we began to realize that we were new members of this world; so, forgetting our shyness, we set about to make the upperclassmen know we had arrived.

Our teachers explained that because of the large number of students, we would have to be divided. Thus, Mr. Davis was assigned the responsibility of guiding the boys, and Mrs. Frank Crawford was the guardian angel of the girls through this first year of uncertainty.

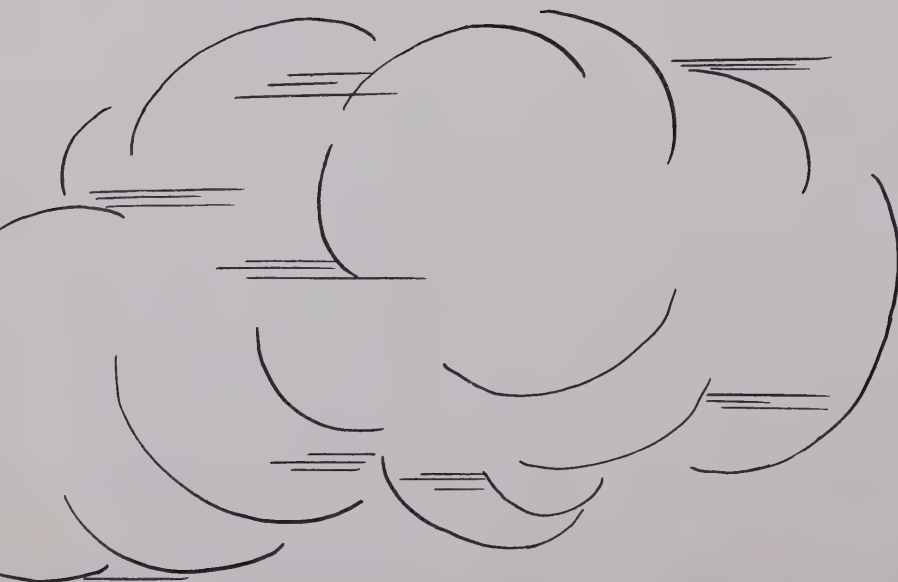

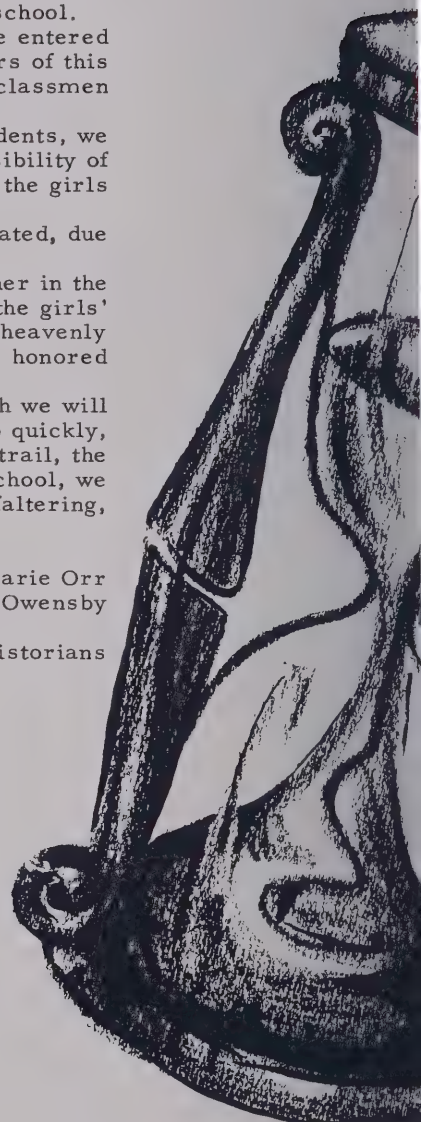

During our second year of high school we were likewise separated, due to our large class.

In our Junior year of high school, we were happily placed together in the home-room with Mr. Glenn Painter, with Mrs. David Huff keeping the girls' record and Mr. Painter, the boys'. These sponsors helped us plan a heavenly Junior-Senior banquet, "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star." In this way we honored the Seniors of 1953.

Now, being the Seniors of Dana High School, we realize how much we will miss each other and our school. The weeks are slipping away all too quickly, and soon we shall come to an unknown and untravelled portion of our trail, the future; however, in bidding farewell to dear old Dana High School, we feel more secure and greatly rewarded for the preparation without faltering, that we might face whatever may befall us along life's way.

CLASS PROPHECY

Well I guess it's the gypsy in us - I don't know any other reason why they chose us to foretell the class prophecy. I will now gaze into this crystal ball to see what the future holds for this grand class of '54.

Turn onward, Turn onward
Oh time in your flight,
Let us see the graduates of '54
Ten years from tonight.

Jimmy Justus has been looking around for an office to hang his shingle on. You know he is a dentist; I suppose we always did wonder why he worked so hard to build up those muscles, "Hold on to the chair, patients, please."

If you people have been reading the newspapers, you know that one of the top scientists of the day is none other than Franklin Bennett. They say he is a wizard, and can make a hydrogen bomb.

My, that new filling station that Ronald Hollifield is building is really swell. Some people wonder how he does so well, but I would like to know if his conscience hurts him when he sells three quarts of gas for a gallon.

Say, who are those smiling nurses coming out of room 209 in Greenville? Mary and Marie Orr, of course. Who wouldn't get sick just for them to hold their hands?

Pearl King is history teacher of fifth grade at dear old Dana. Yes, children, Columbus discovered America in 1492, but the world discovered us, and we made history in 1954.

Doris Gordon has just been elected president of the North Carolina Society of Cosmetologists. She specializes in permanent waves, and oh, yes, she has a couple of red-headed children.

Edward McMurray is now manager of Louis Williams and Sons' store. He can hardly keep enough parts for the Hot Rods the boys are driving.

Grace Garren won the most blue ribbons at the fair this year. She is a wonderful housekeeper.

Lower the gang plank, folks. Do you see who I see? None other than our own Blaine King, who is now in the United States Marines.

"Take a letter, please, Miss Maxine Owensby." She is secretary to President Eisenhower.

John Gibbs and Vincent Pace are two of the most successful farmers of our day. I've heard they had to build larger sweet potato houses, and are buying new machinery. What they learned in F.F.A. must have been worth a lot.

Dana School is really proud of David Hudgins. He is a general in the Air Force.

Jackie Pittillo made the headlines on the sport page when the Yanks won the pennant. You know he is manager of the team.

Darlene Walker is now running a Dancing school. She teaches them a lot of dances. Who knows? She may become a millionaire some day.

Margaret Hazeltine is now doing missionary work in India.

Charles McConnell is now owner of Charlie's Dairy, the former Kalmia Dairy.

Oh! Have you read the new book, "The Life of Speedy, The Great Engineer"? It is written by Harold Reid.

Anne Renshaw is now taking Mrs. Austell's place teaching music.

Maxine Jackson and her husband are now owners of a Raspberry farm trying to raise their thirteen children.

Homer Thompson is now the manager of Thompson's Produce during the day, and at night works for the Private Patrol.

Casey Bennett is now the leading player for the Dodgers.

Iva Sue Hyder and her husband, Grant, are now owners of a Cattle Farm in Nebraska.

I suppose you wonder what this crystal ball holds for us. My, it looks interesting.

Marthene Walker is now happily married, and has triplets, Jezebel, Jethro, and Jeremiah.

Inez Jackson is happily married to a Nazarene preacher. They live in Philadelphia.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty Four, of Dana High School, in the county of Henderson, the State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and realizing our departure from this school, do hereby declare and make this our last will and testament.

To the building and buses we leave our deepest sympathy after the care we have given them for the past twelve years.

To Mr. Jervis we wish to express our many thanks for the interest and leadership he has shown us during the past years. To our teachers we leave our deepest appreciation for their efforts toward increasing our wisdom.

To the undergraduates: To the Junior Class we leave the joy of issuing the El Dorado.

To the Sophomores we leave the job of the Junior and Senior Banquet.

To the Freshmen, we leave our hopes that before long they will occupy the position we now occupy.

Individual Bequests: During our years in school we have accumulated some well known articles which we would like to bestow upon specific underclassmen. They are as follows:

Anne Renshaw leaves her typing ability to Lois Barnwell. Don't get caught speeding, Lois.

Casey Bennett leaves his cowboy guns to Wayne Garrett. Don't hold up the First National Bank.

Mary and Marie Orr leave to Viola Justice their eternal love for Latin and hope that she can do as well.

To Devon McMurray, Harold (Speedy) Reid and Edward McMurray leave their hot rods. Vincent Pace leaves his seat in the 4-H Club to anyone who wants it, because Vincent no longer has any use for it.

To Paul Ray, Kay Frances Hyder leaves her height. With what you have and hers combined, you may be able to break the height record.

Pearl Ann King leaves to Dean Knupp her music talent.

Homer Thompson leaves his famous private patrol job to Junmie Laughter. Take care of all those cars, Jimmie.

Darlene Walker leaves to Frankie Sifton her ability to dance.

Grace Garzen leaves her giggles to William Reed. They will come in handy if you use them at the right time and place.

Franklin Bennett leaves to James Pace his place as class idiot, hoping that things won't get dull.

Maxine Owensby leaves her position as captain of the girls' basketball team to Vivian Murphy.

Blaine King leaves his seat in the Author's Club to Flaughn Lamb. That is, if the seat isn't worn out.

Margaret Hazeltine leaves her job as editor of the annual to Betty Jamerson. It takes a smart girl because it's a hard job.

Charles McConnell leaves his studious ways to Bill Edwards. Maybe you can find a good use for them.

Inez Jackson leaves her English ability to Calvin McCraw so he can get by without spending his lunch periods with Mrs. Allison.

Doris Gordon leaves her ability to sleep with her eyes open to Jean Campbell.

David Hudgins leaves his ability to be seen and not heard to Glenn Duncan.

Jackie Pittillo leaves his position on the baseball and basketball teams to Flaughn Lamb. Do a good job, Flaughn.

John Gibbs leaves his wit to Joan Owensby. Take care of it, Joan, because we all know that John is going to be lost without it.

Marthene Walker leaves her ability to slip to the store at least six times a day without getting caught to Jimmie Litman. Don't go over six times a day, Jimmie, because it's dangerous!

Romeo Ronald Hollifield leaves all his famous techniques to Bill Cornwell.

Since Maxine Jackson has such a large mouth and Buddy Marshall has such a small one, we hope he can use part of hers.

Jimmie Justus leaves his job as driver of the "New Dana Bus" to anyone crazy enough to have it. Don't be pullin' any of this "Strawberry Brock Stuff!"

We hereby appoint Mr. H. B. Griffin, our class advisor, as sole executor of this our last will and testament.
